

TIME

INDIA'S DIVIDER IN CHIEF

By Aatish Taseer

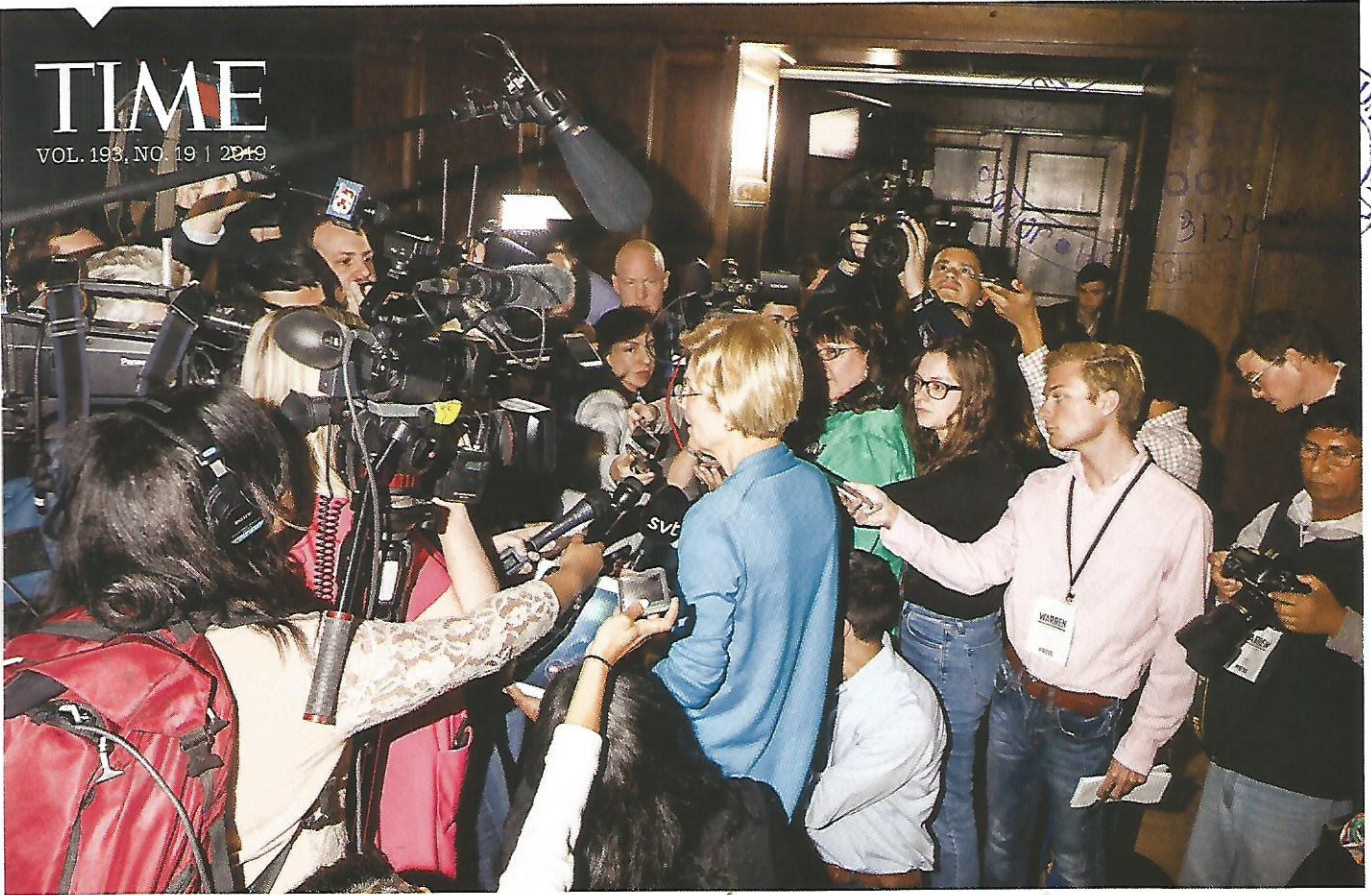

Plus Modi the reformer

By Ian Bremmer

9 771064 030005

16

2 | Conversation
4 | For the Record

The Brief

News from the U.S. and around the world

5 | Uber's IPO exposes American inequality

7 | A million species face extinction

8 | Myanmar frees two prize-winning journalists

10 | Should you have to work to get Medicaid?

12 | TIME with ... Congresswoman Elise Stefanik

14 | The human toll of Venezuela's collapse

The View

Ideas, opinion, innovations

17 | Should you love your spouse more than your children?

18 | Why graduates should not "follow your passion"

19 | James Stavridis: how to retaliate against Russia

Features

The Thinker

Elizabeth Warren invests in substance over style. Will that pay off with Democratic voters?
By Haley Sweetland Edwards 20

▣ Dividing India

Facing re-election, Prime Minister Narendra Modi doubles down on fear
By Aatish Taseer 30

Women v. Walmart

The retail giant faces a flurry of discrimination claims
By Bryce Covert 38

Time Off

What to watch, read, see and do

45 | The Society engages teens in a post-Parkland world

48 | Movies: Tolkien, Wine Country and making Detective Pikachu

50 | Books: Harper Lee's lost book, young-adult novel With the Fire on High, and the latest from Ted Chiang and Ma Jian

52 | 9 Questions for sex therapist Ruth Westheimer

Warren speaks to the press on May 3 at Iowa State University in Ames

Photograph by Krista Schlueter for TIME

ON THE COVER: Illustration by Nigel Buchanan for TIME